Mr. Gs re 246 1, 1s 11/10/69 HW

If the first incident sounds unreal, that three weeks before the assassination a person tentatively identified as Sw 1i and looking like him liad it out, there are other such cases in Miami that, together with the other report of his giving out literature when he also was not and could not have been there, accumulate into a growing wonder: can there be this many nuts in Miami or was there this much put on or was something being cooked.

The unnamed "associate in Cuban exile organization JURE" may well be Sarah Castillo, of whom you'll find more in my Castorr memos of the past. She was secretary and she also was in Dallas for at least one of the meetings. Where the reporting in CD205:647 refers to but the meeting of the 13th, this one refers to a second one on the 20th. Both Castorrs recalled this meeting, both recalled that in a time that seems to have been less than a week, this delegation left Dallas. Ft. Worth is so close, going there is not really like leaving Dallas.

What might be worth getting (and I thought I have it but apparently do not) is the names of those attending. Note that this is a selective list, of only those with English-speaking names.

I got my original information on this meeting before I was carding the CDs. It seems to me that there were then two Dallas reports, but 647 is the only one I find. There was a list kept of those who attended, with their contributions, apparently, for Liebeler knew Walker had given $10.

It might be worth getting the pages with the names and the source of the names, for Sarah Castillo may be of some interest. She was then national secretary of DRE, apparently a striking woman, supposedly very bright and pretty. And it would be good to know who did the speaking. There are two other incidents of about this time either one of which might have been misunderstood to have been the time give. Also, halfway in between, Hall and Seymour were arrested in Dallas, on the 17th, as I recall.
